

MEMORIAL PRAYER

By Roman Inc.

Do not stand at my grave and weep.

I am not there I do not sleep.

I am a thousand winds that blow.

I am the diamond's gilt on the snow.

I am the sunlight on ripened grain.

I am the gentle autumn's rain.

When you awaken in the morning's hush

I am the swift uplifting rush

Of quiet birds in circled flight.

I am the soft stars that shine at night.

Do not stand at my grave and cry;

I am not there, I did not die.

Alexandria's 2007 addition to above poem.

Out of this poem remember your loved one saying to you,

"When you see the sun shining, remember I am alive and I love you.

When you see the wind, remember I am alive and I love you.

When you hear the birds, remember I am alive and I love you.

When you see the water, remember I am alive and I love you.

When you see the flowers, remember I am alive and I love you.

When you see the moon, remember that as the moon passes by and seems to disappear, it will arise again and be with you tomorrow clearly, for love never dies."

PS Let the Holy Spirit personalize this part for you and bring to your mind the specific thoughts pertinent to your personal relationship and experiences you shared together.
